

3. The closing of the circle
- 3.1 Was the Reformation a revolution?
- 3.2 Was Calvin a revolutionary?
- 3.3 Calvin and "social ethics"

Epilogue

1. God who created all things in a wonderful harmony is the Owner of everything
2. Sin as the inversion of all order is a terrible reality
3. Property is acquired by labour and retained in the sinful state of man as a means to check the wild growth of sin
4. In Christ the original order is restored
5. The restoration of true order in and through Christ is the work of God alone through his Word and Spirit
6. Man, created in God's image, is responsible to Him

Bibliography